A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT TO LIMIT THE LICENSES OF ELECTRICAL CONTRACTORS FOR RESIDENTIAL DWELLINGS.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

Section 1. G.S. 87-43.4 reads as rewritten:
"§ 87-43.4. Residential dwelling license.

There is hereby created a separate license for electrical contractors which shall permit an electrical contractor to engage in electrical contracting projects pertaining to single-family detached residential dwellings. The value of a single electrical contracting project shall not exceed that of a limited license as defined in G.S. 87-43.3. The Board shall establish appropriate standards for ~~this new license.~~ the license consistent with the requirements of this section. The standards of knowledge, experience and proficiency shall be those appropriate for that license."

Sec. 2. This act becomes effective July 1, 1995, and applies to electrical contracting projects commenced on or after that date.
