(b) The ~~judge~~court may order the parent to provide transportation for a juvenile to keep an appointment with a court counselor.

~~(b1) In any case where a juvenile has been adjudicated as delinquent, undisciplined, abused, neglected or dependent, the judge may conduct a special hearing to determine if the court should order the parents to participate in medical, psychiatric, psychological or other treatment and pay the costs thereof. The notice of this hearing shall be by special petition and summons to be filed by the court and served upon the parents at the conclusion of the adjudication hearing. If, at this hearing, the court finds it in the best interest of the juvenile for the parent to be directly involved in treatment, the judge may order the parent to participate in medical, psychiatric, psychological or other treatment.~~

At the dispositional hearing or a subsequent hearing in the case of a juvenile who has been adjudicated delinquent, undisciplined, abused, neglected, or dependent, if the court finds that it is in the best interest of the juvenile for the parent to be directly involved in the juvenile's treatment, the court may order the parent to participate in medical, psychiatric, psychological, or other treatment of the juvenile and to pay the costs thereof. If the court finds that the parent is unable to pay the cost of the treatment, the court may charge the cost to the county of the juvenile's residence.

~~(b2) At any hearing conducted pursuant to subsection (b1) of this section or at a separate hearing set for this purpose, the court may consider whether the best interest of a juvenile who has been removed from the custody of his parent requires that legal custody or physical placement of the juvenile with the parent be conditioned upon the parent undergoing medical, psychiatric, psychological, or other treatment directed toward remediating or remedying those behaviors or conditions that led to or contributed to removal of the child, and paying the cost of that treatment. The notice of hearing in such case shall be by special petition and summons to be filed with the court and served upon the parent at the conclusion of the adjudication hearing. The notice may be combined with a notice given under subsection (b1) of this section. If, at the hearing, the court determines that the best interest of the juvenile requires that the parent~~

~~undergo such treatment, it may enter an order conditioning legal custody or physical placement of the juvenile with the parent upon compliance with a plan of treatment approved by the court and order the parent to pay the cost of the treatment. If the judge finds the parent is unable to pay the cost of the treatment, the judge may charge the cost to the county. The special hearing required by this subsection may be combined with the dispositional hearing as long as the notice required by this subsection is given.~~

At the dispositional hearing or a subsequent hearing in the case of a juvenile who has been adjudicated delinquent, undisciplined, abused, neglected, or dependent, the court may determine whether the best interest of the juvenile requires that the parent undergo psychiatric, psychological, or other treatment or counseling directed toward remediating or remedying behaviors or conditions that led to or contributed to the juvenile's adjudication or to the court's decision to remove custody of the juvenile from the parent. If the court finds that the best interest of the juvenile requires the parent undergo treatment, it may order the parent to comply with a plan of treatment approved by the court or condition legal custody or physical placement of the juvenile with the parent upon the parent's compliance with the plan of treatment. The court may order the parent to pay the cost of treatment ordered pursuant to this subsection. In cases in which the court has conditioned legal custody or physical placement of the juvenile with the parent upon the parent's compliance with a plan of treatment, the court may charge the cost of the treatment to the county of the juvenile's residence if the court finds the parent is unable to pay the cost of the treatment. In all other cases, if the court finds the parent is unable to pay the cost of the treatment ordered pursuant to this subsection, the court may order the parent to receive treatment currently available from the area mental health program that serves the parent's catchment area.

(c) ~~Whenever legal custody of a juvenile is vested in someone other than his the juvenile's parent, after due notice to the parent and after a hearing, the judge court may order that the parent pay a reasonable sum that will cover in whole or in part the support of the juvenile after the order is entered. If the court requires the payment of child support, the amount of the payments shall be determined as provided in G.S. 50-13.4(c). If the judge court places a juvenile in the custody of a county department of social services and if the judge court finds that the parent is unable to pay the cost of the support required by the juvenile, the cost shall be paid by the county department of social services in whose custody the juvenile is placed, provided the juvenile is not receiving care in an institution owned or operated by the State or federal government or any subdivision thereof.~~

(d) Failure of a parent who is personally served to participate in or comply with subsections (a) through (c) may result in a civil proceeding for contempt."
